

THE Hollywood REPORTER

New York Film Critics Name 'Social Network' Best Film of 2010

1:56 PM 12/13/2010 by Bryan Alexander

SHARE

88

Comments \(#comments\)

Merrick Morton/Columbia Tristar

Colin Firth and Annette Bening also receive best acting honors.

The New York Film Critics Circle has voted The Social Network the best film of 2010. The film's director David Fincher won for best director.

Best actress was awarded to Annette Bening for The Kids Are Alright and best actor to Colin Firth for The King's Speech.

The members cast their votes at the annual meeting this morning.

Chair Armond White said in a release, "This year's choices reflect the current critical mindset. It's proof that it's always a good year for movies."

Here's the complete list of winners:

- Best Film – The Social Network
- Best Director – David Fincher (The Social Network)
- Best Screenplay – Lisa Cholodenko & Stuart Blumberg (The Kids Are All Right)
- Best Actress – Annette Bening (for The Kids Are All Right)
- Best Actor – Colin Firth (The King's Speech)
- Best Supporting Actress – Melissa Leo (The Fighter)
- Best Supporting Actor – Mark Ruffalo (The Kids Are All Right)
- Best Cinematography – Matthew Libatique (The Black Swan)
- Best Animated Film – The Illusionist
- Best Non-fiction Film – Inside Job
- Best Foreign Language Film - Carlos
- Best First Feature – Animal Kingdom

The annual awards presentation will take place on Monday, Jan. 10.

SHARE

88

Comments \(#comments\)

Like

146 people like this. Be the first of your friends.

[?]

---